WHERE CAN I RIDE?

Idaho has some of the best off-highway motorbike and ATV riding opportunities in the nation. Over 95% of these opportunities are within National Forests and on public land. The U.S. Forest Service provides motor vehicle use maps that identify open roads and trails, closure dates and other details to help you plan an enjoyable ride. The Bureau of Land Management has similar information. Use the map on the right to locate the office nearest you.

OFF-HIGHWAY VEHICLE EDUCATION

Your safety is our number one concern. IDPR encourages anyone who will be operating off-highway vehicles to complete the free IDPR Responsible Riders OHV education class. It will last four-hours and includes a home study manual with a written test administered during the class and hands-on riding for skills development. Classes are offered in locations statewide. Visit www.parksandrecreation.idaho.gov to download a registration form.
